

Christmas 2010

Dear friends and family,

This roadway shrine to Mary and Jesus is down the hill from the cottage that was our home in the Slovenian hills for a week in September. This is our Christmas card to you this year. If you look closely you will find us pictured there too!

The first half of 2010 was largely spent planning for the realisation of a dream. The second half was living that dream. Yes, we travelled from London to Hong Kong by train. More than that, we travelled from a family reunion in Shetland (the most northerly islands of the United Kingdom) to the Asian coast without boarding a plane. We hoped you enjoyed the blow-by-blow account in our travel epistles or on our website, www.geoffandchris.com.

We are now back home, picking up the threads of our lives, along with a heap of accumulated mail and a tinge of sadness. Beau, our neighbour Jenny's cat, who had adopted us as his own, has gone missing. If you see him ...

May you and all our world know the glorious joy and abundant hope of Christmas this year.

Remember, our guest room is waiting for you.

With our love,

Chris and Geoff
